NARRATIVE

BEFORE ME, THIS DATE, PERSONALLY APPEARED OFFICER B. SAGASTUME, ID # 575, WHO, BEING FIRST DULY SWORN, DEPOSES AND SAYS THAT ON THE 2ND DAY OF OCTOBER 2nd 2026 AT 2021 HOURS, THE BELOW-NAMED DEFENDANT COMMITTED THE BELOW OFFENSES CHARGED, AND THE FACTS SHOWING PROBABLE CAUSE TO BELIEVE THE SAME ARE AS FOLLOWS:

On Thursday, October 1st, 2026, at approximately 2006 hours, I responded to Miramar PD Headquarters, 11765 City Hall Promenade, Miramar, FL, regarding a follow-up investigation of a grand theft. The original incident was reported on August 17th, 2026, at approximately 2133 hours.

My investigation revealed the following:

On August 17th, 2026, the victim, Stormy Wellington (P-1), reported to the Miramar Police that on August 3rd, 2026, she discovered six of her luxury designer handbags were missing from her closet. The victim does not know how long the items have been missing; however, she noticed that they were missing on August 3rd, 2026.

As a result, the victim's assistant (P-2, witness) advised that on August 11th, 2026, he created a "social media post" that requested assistance in locating the missing handbags. As a result of the post, the designer handbags were located (advertised on Instagram) at a business that resells authentic designer handbags and other luxury items. The business was identified through its Instagram page as "Cashingdiamonds," located in Aventura, FL.

The witness stated that he contacted the business on August 17th, 2026, using the telephone number listed on its social media profile and spoke with an individual identified as "Alex". Alex [REDACTED] informed the witness that the Defendant had brought the handbags to the business and represented them as his own to obtain a loan. Alex also advised that the Defendant had defaulted on the loan.

The victim advised that the Defendant was tasked with taking 1-2 designer handbags to get professionally cleaned. The Defendant was an authorized employee and was granted access to the residence located within the jurisdictional limits of the City of Miramar, 4514 SW 195th Way. However, she did not authorize the Defendant to remove any additional items from the residence.

Officers who responded to the residence on August 17th, 2026, spoke with the Defendant via landline, who admitted to having possession of the five "designer handbags" (Hermès Birkin) and advised that he would return them by August 20th, 2026. As of October 2, 2026, the Defendant has not returned any of the items.

The original reported loss is as follows:

1. Hermes – Red – $26,450.40 (Invoice provided)
2. Hermes – Black – $35,000.00 (Invoice not provided)
3. Hermes – Green – $26,450.40 (Invoice provided)

The total value of the six handbags is $174,360.80.

On Thursday, October 1st, 2026, during an interview, the victim reported two additional handbags that were missing and alleged that the Defendant deprived her of the following handbags:

7. Classic Red Chanel - $6,500 (Invoice not provided)
8. Classic Black Chanel - $6,500 (Invoice not provided)

Approximate total loss: $187,360.80

Using her cellular device, the victim provided several photographs of the person whom she knew as Shaquille Palmer. The victim knew the Defendant for approximately seven years and described their relationship as beyond an employer/employee relationship. Furthermore, she stated that she considered him a friend. The victim provided the Defendant's personal contact information and home address (verified in DAVID). Subsequently, the Defendant's most recent DMV photograph was presented to the victim, who positively identified him as the individual who had deprived her of her property.

The victim positively identified the Defendant as Shaquille Jaray Palmer, [REDACTED] identification and details regarding the grand theft were documented via an audio- and video-recorded statement.

On October 2nd 2026, at approximately 1800 hours, I spoke with [REDACTED] Goldberg (P-3), who advised that his business resells designer handbags and other luxury items. Goldberg has known the Defendant for approximately 2-3 years. Goldberg confirmed that the Defendant pawned a total of 4-5 Hermes Birkin handbags. Goldberg advised that the Defendant defaulted on the loan and was notified in June of 2026 that the designer handbags would be used as collateral and eventually sold. Goldberg advised that he would cooperate and submit all paperwork, text messages, and identification involving the transaction.

On October 2nd, 2026, at approximately 1932 hours, I met with the Defendant at Miramar Headquarters. The Defendant was Mirandized using the agency-issued Miranda Rights Card and agreed to speak with me. The Defendant corroborated his seven-year relationship with the victim. Additionally, he confirmed that he took the five luxury handbags to get them "serviced and cleaned." The Defendant advised that he was the victim's employee and was authorized to remove/service approximately nine handbags in two different batches: First batch: 4 luxury handbags that were "serviced" and returned within four months. The Second batch: 5 Luxury handbags that were not yet returned. The Defendant corroborated the descriptions of the five luxury bags listed above, items one through five.

The Defendant also elaborated on the approximate value of each designer handbag and stated that he was aware of their combined retail value of over 100k. The Defendant stated that the handbags were taken (with permission) approximately 8-12 months ago. The Defendant also confirmed that the handbags had been serviced and ready to be picked up. All five designer handbags are allegedly with Goldberg ready for pickup (according to the Defendant). However, he stated that he intentionally did not return the handbags to the victim because of the "Smear Campaign" that tainted his reputation. The Defendant was asked to provide a timeframe when he would be able to return the designer handbags; he replied that he was unable to provide a timeframe. The Defendant was asked about the items being put up for consignment (pawned); subsequently, he stated that he did not wish to answer specific questions regarding that aspect without an attorney present. It should be noted that the Defendant denied having possession of items listed above, numbers six through eight.
