CABANAS ALBOR, ELLEN							W	F
Monday 10/12/26. Today 10/8/26, at approximately 1008 hours, I went to 6707 W Indiantown Rd. (Aldi's) and made contact with the manager working B/F Chestaire Jean Baptiste [REDACTED] informed her of the incident she told me she was from a different location and did not know of the incident. I gave her information that would be needed from Coddington when she returned Baptiste stated she would pass the information alone. At this time, I have no further information for this case.  On 10/12/2026 at 0658 hours, I was assigned the above case (#26003583) for shift level follow-up. On the morning of 10/12/2026, I attempted to contact Aldi's district manager, Jennifer Coddington (W/F [REDACTED]) several times by cell phone with no success. On 10/12/2026, at approximately 1035 hours, I arrived at Aldi's (6707 W Indiantown Road, Jupiter, FL 33458). I spoke with Aldi's staff, who advised that Coddington was not in at this time. Coddington later advised the following over the phone: Coddington was unable to come into the Jupiter Police Department today to provide a sworn statement regarding case #26003583. I asked Coddington if she was able to provide any further information on the suspect, and she stated she would have to contact the Human Resources department. I asked if the suspect is still currently employed at Aldi's, and she stated that she was terminated on 9/12/2026. On 10/15/2026, at approximately 0900 hours, I made contact with Jennifer L. Coddington [REDACTED] the Jupiter Police Department (196 Military Trail, Jupiter, FL [REDACTED]) provided the following sworn statement: Ellen Cabanas Albor (W/F [REDACTED]) has been an employee (ID #000548675) of Aldi's since 11/18/2024 and was [REDACTED] 9/12/2026 after an [REDACTED] investigation regarding fraud. Aldi's discovered that Albor would make [REDACTED] customers, place the returned items on the return rack, and later rescan the item and pocket the cash. Ultimately leaving the cashier's drawer showing as "balanced" despite the items being returned twice. Coddington provided the following events including time frames and dollar amounts per Aldi's video surveillance and receipts she discovered throughout Aldi's internal investigation: -8/9/2026 at 1330 hours, removed the cash out of the register and pocketed the cash- $32 total -8/11/2026 at 2105 hours, removed the cash from the register and placed it on the Albor pocketed the cash at 2040 hours- $320.95 total -9/3/2026 at 2034 hours, removed the cash from the register and placed it on the counter. Albor pocketed the cash at 2041 hours- $209 total -9/4/2026 at 1855 hours, removed the cash from the register and placed it on the counter. Albor pocketed the cash at 2000 hours- $178 total I reviewed the aforementioned surveillance and observed Albor repeatedly go to the southwest corner of the store where the returned items are located with empty hands. The return section is out of frame on surveillance. Albor would return to the cash register with items, scan them, take the receipt, and place it on the counter. Albor withdrew the cash from the register and placed it under the counter. She would continue working on miscellaneous tasks and later return to the register. Albor would reach into the same area under the counter where the cash was last left and then place something in her pants pocket. I did not observe the cash directly, as it appeared she was attempting to obscure the object with her hand. She would repeat this process over and over. The above numbers are the total amounts for all the transactions combined for that day/shift. All of the above transactions were placed under Albor's employee number [REDACTED] 75. The total amount taken is approximately $1,380.80. Albor was confronted by Coddington and the store manager [REDACTED]. Albor provided a multi-page written confession to [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] took the cash. Albor stated that her mother is struggling with vision issues and her family needed the money. Albor wrote that she started stealing from the company within the past four months, and she estimated approximately $4,000 was taken in total. A link was sent to Coddington to upload Albor's written statement and receipts to evidence.com. I uploaded Aldi's store surveillance to evidence.com using Coddington's flash drive. Coddington advised that they want to prosecute. [REDACTED] approximately 1030 hours, I attempted to contact Albor and left a message. [REDACTED] provided Albor's sister's information, Eliet Cabanas Albor [REDACTED]. Eliet advised that Albor is now employed at Dunkin Donuts (unknown which Jupiter location). Shortly after, Albor returned my call and agreed to come to the police department lobby at 1300 hours to provide a statement. On 10/15/2026 at approximately 1335 hours, I was contacted by Albor's attorney, who advised that she was not coming in to the police department to provide a statement. On 10/15/2025 at approximately 1500 hours, I made contact with Aldi's manager Andrew H. Triana (W/M [REDACTED], [REDACTED] the following sworn statement: All employees' ID numbers are personal to them; however, if another employee were to get a hold of their password, they would be able to make transactions under their account. Interior surveillance has a 45-minute time delay from what is shown on the cash registers (the registers are true to time). Meaning there is a 45-minute difference between surveillance and transactions. I confirmed the countertop on the southwest corner of the store, closest to the cash register checkout line, is where returned items are placed. It is approximately 10-15 feet from the checkout line staffed by employees. This area is obscured from surveillance, but Albor is seen walking to and from this area. Approaching the return section with empty hands and returning with items to the cash register. Triana positively identified Albor as the suspect in the surveillance provided by Coddington. Triana did not have any further information to add in regard to Albor. Based on the totality of the circumstances, probable cause exists to charge Ellen Cabanas Albor pursuant to FSS 812.014(2)(C)(1) Grand Theft and FSS 817.034(3)(D) Scheme to Defraud. On 10/15/2026 at approximately 1631 hours, Albor turned herself in to the Jupiter Police Department. I asked Albor if she was willing to provide a statement and she declined. She was placed in handcuffs that were double locked and checked for proper spacing. Albor was transported to the holding cell at the Jupiter Police Department and she was later transported to the Palm Beach County jail without further incident. My department issued body worn camera was activated during this incident.
